A New ASSIST: Legacy, Reality and the Dream

2019 Ensuring Transfer Success Conference
ASSIST is a critical tool for transfer. Users have generated nearly 16 million agreements and transferability lists for more than one million unique users in recent years, helping contribute to the successful transfer of many thousands of CCC students to a UC or CSU.
Today’s session will be focused on the new ASSIST public website.

Making It Public
• Communication about the new public site and an important resource
• Welcoming the new arrival
• New ASSIST public website

The Passing of Time
• What will you see depending on the academic year selected

Large and Small Bites
• When you can view lists and agreements individually as opposed to a view of “All”

To See or Not to See
• Transferability list differences between the legacy and new system

Coming Soon
• Testing, the early release of the site, and some supporting materials

Hello and Goodbye
• Learn about when and where to say hello or wave goodbye to ASSIST related websites

What Comes Next
• We will talk about what comes next for ASSIST after the public site is released

Resources
• We will take a quick tour of the ASSIST Resource Center so you can see where information relevant to you can be found
• You should have received the April 2019 New ASSIST Public Website Update communication sent out last month.

• Included was a reminder of the wide scale release of the first phase of the public site on May 31st.

• Importantly, the communication contained some critical information about what would and would not be immediately available with this first phase of the release.

• Finally, a link was provided to the New ASSIST public site Frequently Asked Questions page (https://resource.assist.org/Resources/New-ASSIST-Public-Website) on the ASSIST Resource Center. It will be a important living document and updated as new information becomes available and to address common questions.
So we have this new arrival joining our community. As you have heard several times by now, this will be the first phase of ongoing development of the public site, so keep in mind that “From small things, big things one day come”.

ASSIST Introduction
The California public higher education system includes the California Community Colleges, the California State University, and the University of California.

Transferring from a California Community College to a university requires current information and thoughtful planning. ASSIST is here to help!

What is ASSIST and what does it do?
• ASSIST provides the most accurate and up-to-date information about student transfer in California; it is the official repository of articulation agreements for California’s public colleges and universities. Articulation shows how courses completed at one college or university can be used to satisfy requirements at another.
• ASSIST lists courses that fulfill university admission requirements, major and general education requirements, and university graduation requirements. It also lists transferable elective courses that can be used to reach the number of units needed to transfer to a university.
• ASSIST does not contain information about private, out-of-state, or international colleges or universities.

New ASSIST Public Website – Excerpt from New to ASSIST document
• Provides information about ASSIST and other basic transfer information.
• Created by articulation officers with additional edits by the ASSIST Articulation Officer Workgroup
New ASSIST Public Website – Frequent Questions

New ASSIST Public Website

The first phase of the new ASSIST public website will be released on May 31, 2019. See below for additional details and frequently asked questions.

FAQs

1. What information will be available when the new ASSIST public website is released in May 2019?

Transferability Lists

All six transferability lists will be available including the following:

- CSU Transferable Courses
- UC Transferable Courses
- UC Transfer Admission Eligibility Courses
- IGETC for UC and CSU
- CSU GE-Breadth Certification Courses
- CSU US History, Constitution and American Ideals Courses

Transferability lists for academic years up to and including 2015-2016 will be displayed in the form of legacy ASSIST PDFs.

Transferability lists for academic years 2016-2017 and beyond will be displayed in a PDF of the new ASSIST format as available for each institution.

When any selections are changed in the left drop down menu after making a previous selection, a reminder appears that you need to click on “View Agreements” or “View Transferability Lists” in order to submit your new request. If you did not intend to make a change, you can click on “Back to Previous Results”. This approach ensures there is never a situation where you change the search terms in the Transfer Information box but what is displayed does not match those terms if you have not yet clicked one of the “View” buttons.

Note:
- The type of articulation agreements, and the academic years available, will vary institution to institution.
- While articulation agreements for the most recent academic years will not be displayed immediately, they will be available as soon as possible after the release.
- Additional important major preparation information (how courses requirements at a CSU or UC campus) can be found by navigating to one of the links shown.
College Admission Requirements for Transfer Students
This major is offered by the College of Letters and Science (LoS).

By the end of the spring term preceding fall enrollment at Berkeley, you must complete:
1) The LoS Requirements in Reading, Composition, Quantitative Reasoning, and Foreign Language; OR
2) IGETC

Major Requirements:
Complete as many lower division major requirements as possible. See details on preparation for this major below.

Primary selection criteria for admission, in general:
- completion of LoS Requirements (or IGETC), plus
- strength of academic preparation, and
- grade point average.

For more information on admission to UC Berkeley:
http://admissions.berkeley.edu

For more information on majors at UC Berkeley:

Articulation Agreements – Redirect if academic year selected is not available. This feature is available for transferability lists as well.
Agreement Format and Year Available

• At the time the new ASSIST public website is released, all lists and agreements, regardless of what site they came from, are in a PDF format.
• The legacy ASSIST lists and agreements will remain in a PDF format, and no data changes made in the system will be reflected in those documents.
• While initially transferability lists and agreements produced by the new ASSIST system will be displayed in a PDF format, they will later be replaced by dynamically generated HTML lists and agreements.
• Any PDF lists or agreements generated from within the new system will be updated with any changes on a nightly basis to capture the ongoing work of Articulation Officers.
• The graphic included should make it easier to visualize how the selection of academic year influences what will be displayed.
  • Transferability Lists – Legacy ASSIST and New ASSIST
    • Transferability lists for academic years 2015-2016 and prior were taken from the legacy ASSIST system
    • Transferability lists for academic years 2016-2017 and beyond will be in the new ASSIST format
  • Articulation Agreements – Legacy ASSIST and New ASSIST (as available)
    • Articulation Agreements for academic years 2015-2016 and prior were taken from the legacy ASSIST system
    • Articulation Agreements for academic year 2016-2017 may have been taken from the legacy ASSIST system or may be generated from within the new system
    • Articulation Agreements for academic years 2017-2018 and beyond will be displayed in the new ASSIST format
• Just as with the legacy ASSIST system, we know the type of articulation agreements, and the academic years available, will vary by institution in any normal year.
• For this year we have a bit of a perfect storm with some system challenges inherited from our previous software vendor and the need to bring the new ASSIST public site to the public as soon as possible, integrating the legacy ASSIST components, the Course Transferability Tool lists, and making available the 2019-2020 transferability lists with the most up-to-date course review decisions.
• Therefore, while all articulation agreements for the most recent academic years will not be displayed immediately upon release, they will be available as soon as possible thereafter.
• CSU and UC articulation officers are doing their very best to produce the newest articulation agreements as work is completed to give them access to certain features and functionality.
• As articulation agreements are finalized for publication, they will be made available on the new ASSIST website.
• In the meantime, you will still be able to access the UC and CSU updated major requirement information pages through the CSU and UC links made available when a CCC and UC or CSU or selected.
Large and Small Bites
“View By” Options

• Legacy ASSIST PDFs
  • Legacy ASSIST Options
    • Each department, each area, each major, etc.

• New ASSIST PDFs
  • Selections available in an “All” format
    • All departments, all areas, majors, etc.
  • Use of Outline View
  • Additional “view by” selections will be made available

Legacy ASSIST PDFs
• You will have all the same “view by” options you had in the legacy system
  ▪ Each department, each area, each major, etc.

New ASSIST PDFs
• Initially, the only “view by” option will be that of “all” for lists or agreements produced by the new system
• Selections available in an “All” format
  • All departments, all areas, majors, etc.
• Use of Outline View
• Additional “view by” selections will be made available as soon as possible after the first release phase

Check FAQ document (https://resource.assist.org/Resources/New-ASSIST-Public-Website) for tips on using “Outline View”.

With regard to information in the body of the CSU lists -

• CSU GE, CSU AI, and IGETC Footnotes Have Been Ended
  - Most footnotes or comments ended prior to the 2017-2018 AY
  - A majority of those are for the CSU AI List
  - If a footnote or comment still pertains to a list but is not displayed with the course, a link will be available in the header that will take a user to the additional footnotes or comments.

- The system will be released to counselors, advisors, transfer center directors and evaluators on Friday, May 17th.
- You will receive a communication from ASSIST but sent to you through the CCCCO, CSUCO or UCOP listservs.

Tutorials (Available by May 31st)
- Student Outreach Toolkit (Available by May 31st)
  - PowerPoint
  - Sample Social Media Text for Facebook, Instagram and Twitter
  - Sample email and text message communication
  - Student Flyer
See slide for information concerning when various ASSIST websites will be available.
Note: While the legacy ASSIST Maintenance Reports site will be retired in the future, no final date has been set yet and ample notice will be given to users.
What Comes Next?

- Unfortunately not a long vacation for the ASSIST team but instead...
- Focus on bug fixes which we are not able to complete before the May release but which did not stop work from being accomplished in the system.
- Planning for the redesign and development of Explore Majors functionality
- Completing the work needed to provide extracts to campuses and to make web services operational
- Looking at future improvements and features like Compare Courses by Major

Benefit of Releasing with a Phased Approach

- Development done by an outstanding, highly experienced new software vendor
- Opportunity to think about features like Explore Majors and where might make improvements
- Time to gather additional feedback
The ASSIST Resource Center
- Developed through a partnership with the Foundation for California Community Colleges
- New ASSIST Resource Center (resource.assist.org) replaced the Legacy ASSIST Info Site (info.assist.org)
- Hub for all news, updates, resources, and important information to support ASSIST users
- To access other pages, either click icons in the middle of the home page, or tabs at the top
“About” page provides some background information about ASSIST, including mission and vision statements, intersegmental ASSIST sponsorship, and rosters for the groups that provide advisement to the ASSIST team and upper management.
• The news page is used to share monthly updates (the ASSISTance newsletter) and important project and development updates.
• Use the text search box to search by keyword
• Sign up for ASSIST updates and you can receive an e-mail each time the news page has a new posting
The Calendar page includes ASSIST office closures, ASSIST related events such as conferences, presentations, and training events, and other important dates.
• The Tutorials page contains a collection of video tutorials and demonstrations that users can watch for instruction on how to use different components of the site.
• The linked menu on the right hand side is categorized by user type and allows you to jump to specific tutorials of interest.
• As noted previously, several tutorials related to the new ASSIST public website will be made available by May 31st. You can see an initial list under the “Coming soon” heading on the right hand side of the page.
Different handouts and training documents, including user guides and ASSIST logos and images, are housed on the Resources tab. Most importantly for counselors, this is the access point for the New ASSIST Public Website page.
If you have not already done so, we encourage you to take a look at the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) located on the New ASSIST Public Website under the “Resources” tab of the ASSIST Resource Center. This will be a living document which will be updated regularly as new information becomes available and to address common questions.
